THE AMAZON AND NEW ECONOMIES INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE BEGINS

At the opening ceremony, IBRAM's CEO, Raul Jungmann, highlighted the mining sector's commitment to overcoming the biggest challenge facing current and future generations: the climate crisis. "Overcoming the climate crisis touches us and calls for everyone's responsibility. The Amazon is something that belongs to us, but it also matters to the whole world".

PANEL DEBATES CHALLENGES AND OPPORTUNITIES IN THE AMAZON

The activity closed the first day of the event and brought together leaders from the business sector, traditional peoples and communities and the government of Pará around some fundamental points in the debate on the transition to the green economy.

"THERE IS NO PLANET B", WARNS BAN KI-MOON

The 8th UN Secretary-General also highlighted that the climate crisis is present in all parts of the world and overcoming it depends on more ambition, action and political will.
